

Andy Law is a director of Reiach and Hall Architects who are a medium sized private Architectural practice with over 40 employees

Andy Law registered as an Architect in 1987

He has been a Part 3 Examiner with APEAS for over 10 years

Qualifications include: BA Hons, University of Bristol 1978-1981; and Dip Arch, Mackintosh School, Glasgow, 1983-1985

Architectural knowledge and understanding – CPD

- Andy's CPD includes being a Part 3 examiner (although this is now irregular), assisting in running the Examination Authority and lecturing at the Part 3 Update Course in Edinburgh each June
- He is undertaking research into the potential for architecture to be included in the National Curriculum.
- Has applied to speak at several international healthcare conferences in 2018 (in the UK, South America and Europe). Naturally this will include attending these conferences
- Andy has also attended a number of meetings with government officers to discuss the future of public procurement. This will continue
- The above is in addition to attending regular CPD talks within his office and the occasional outside lecture, together with reading journals etc

Recent Professional experience

Reiach and Hall Architects

- Principal role is as a hands-on project running director
- Projects over the last 3 years include Forth Valley College – Alloa and Stirling Campuses, Ardrossan Medical Centre, Scottish National Blood Transfusion Service National Centre, three Health Centres for NHS Lanarkshire at East Kilbride, Kilsyth and Wishaw, an NPD bid for a new Hospital and Healthcare Facilities in Kirkwall, Orkney, Forth Valley College Falkirk HQ Campus
- Andy also takes a full role in running the practice
- He is the practice advisor on contract, professional and procurement issues
- He leads the team responsible for developing the office's BIM capability and computer system generally
- Andy is also engaged for a significant portion of his time in business development activities